FOREWORD

This yearbook, the 1965 TROJAN, is presented to you as a pictorial review of the past year. We have endeavored to record all events as they occurred, and to preserve each incident accurately.

Yet many happenings are impossible to record. To each of us, this past year has held many adventures that cannot be recorded in print—rather, they must exist in the knowledge we have gained, the friends we have made, and the goals we have obtained.

Thus the annual cannot possibly record all the happenings of this past year. It is not meant to do so. This edition of the TROJAN is intended to be a supplement to memories, something to remind us of the days when Troy High School was the center of our lives.

Gilda Potter
Editor, 1965

The 1965 TROJAN

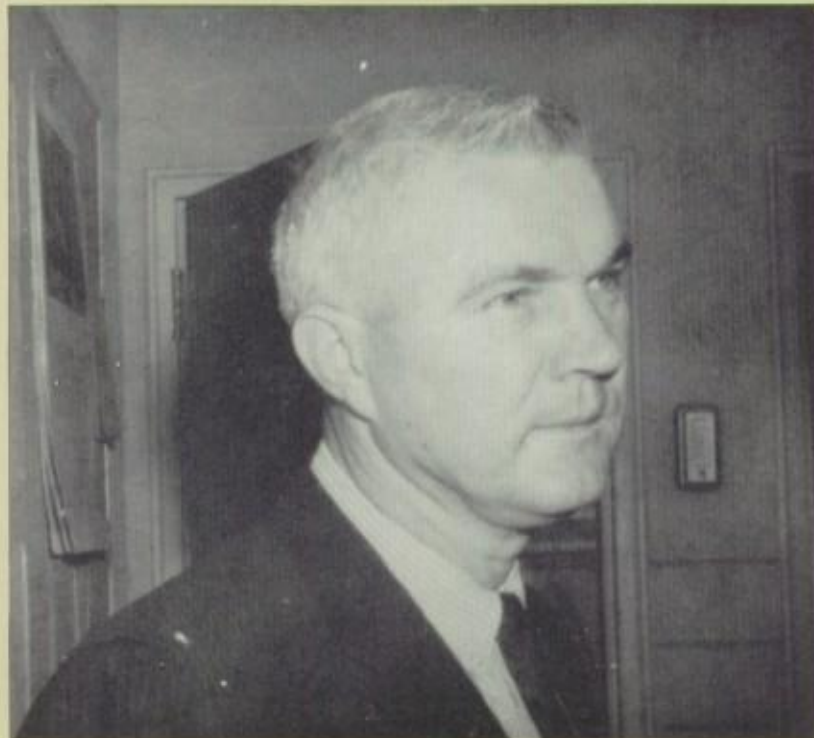

Theodore Bascombe — In class you taught us how to make crooked lines straight and without your unselfish efforts, the football program and "Big T" would have been much less successful.

Patricia Hartle — Your patience, understanding, and advice as a counselor helped to pave the paths which we are to travel and in English you saved us from "dese and dem and dose who ain't gonna talk right."

Vernon Knuckles — As a teacher and as advisor to the Annual Staff, you have demonstrated a breadth of knowledge and a great depth of understanding. Your strong yet quiet manner, punctuated with quotations and witticisms commands our respect and admiration and serves as a strong stimulus for us to strive for success.

Is Dedicated To. . .

Dale Vesper — At any hour of day or night, you stand ready to help a student on the road to college, to raise the educational standards of the school and to add stature to the profession which you so nobly serve.

James Welbaum — Your coaching brought fame and honor to Troy High School, but your ready smile and sincere friendship brings warmth and inspiration to the entire student body.

Norvin Smith — Our respect and admiration for you and for your personal achievements have been an inspiration to us to succeed. We accepted the challenge to "go with the work book" and we appreciated the opportunity to "go with you."

Members of the annual staff of the 1965 TROJAN wish to express their sincere appreciation to MR. HOMER ENGLISH for his efforts to improve our annual. His co-operation and perseverance have proven invaluable to the staff. For the past thirteen years, he has been unselfish in the sharing of his time and knowledge for the success of the annual.

Because of his friendliness, he has become a friend to everyone. If all persons would endeavor to work in their chosen field as he does, we would have a stronger, more contented nation.

ADMINISTRATION...
FACULTY

The Administration is the deciding factor of our school system. If it weren't for their skills in making important decisions and their knowledge of running a school, we would not have as fine a school system as the one utilized by Troy High School. Thanks to a "modern thinking" administration, we have kept our school system up with the time.

"The Sound Of Music"

Produced by J. Morris Bailey

Maria has decided to become a nun.

The children sing their good-night to family and guests.

Now comes the time when the Von Trapp family must flee from the German invasion.

Rick McClure, as Captain Von Trapp and Dorothy Weaver, as Maria, are married.

The nun's processional leads the way while Mr. Bailey looks on during dress rehearsal.

Yes, I'm late. So what?

Don Nelson in "The Solid Gold Cadillac."

Nancy Winner and Lynda Randall try to improve company-stockholder relations in "The Solid Gold Cadillac."

"The Solid Gold Cadillac" Senior Class Play

Don Nelson emerges and suddenly bellows that he is going to sue his host.

Tom Nottle and Kathy Dooley raise a ruckus in "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

An indignant Nancy and Rick are told that their uninvited guest is going to sue them.

Neighbors flock in for a look at the famous visitor.

"The Man Who Came To Dinner"

The four directors, Chuck Littleton, Greg LaVelle, Jim Lutz and Dennis Drieling try desperately to oust Nancy Winner.

Carol Wright receives a trophy as Salutatorian.

J. B. Hockert is given his trophy as Valedictorian.

Rick Buckalew administers the oath of office to the new student council president, Jerry Stichter.

These three boys, Craig Umbenhauer, Jerry Stichter, and Fred Millet, represented T.H.S. at Buckeye Boys' State.

Scholarship And Recognition

This is the time for the induction of the new Senior members of the National Honor Society.

The new editor, Sandy Zurmehly, is surprised but happy.

Kathy Knuckles (above) and Sandra Hartley (below) have been chosen as Buckeye Girls' State representatives.

Becky Yount and Dick Bradford, two Bonanza candidates, receive recognition from Mr. Bailey for their outstanding abilities.

An old tradition: The tapping of the new Trojan editor.

Assemblies

For the first time at T.H.S., the skaters are recognized.

Mr. Bailey congratulates Nancy Winner as best actress, Don Nelson as best actor, and Tom Nofle and Lynda Randall as best supporting actor and actress.

Farewell

Chapel

May 28, 1965

Mrs. Curry delivered an unusually moving and inspiring message to the Seniors, "Excelsior." Her message left the congregation in an inspired, awe-filled mood.

J. B. Hockert is awarded the Bausch and Lomb Science Award.

Tom Barga receives the color cane to carry during graduation exercises.

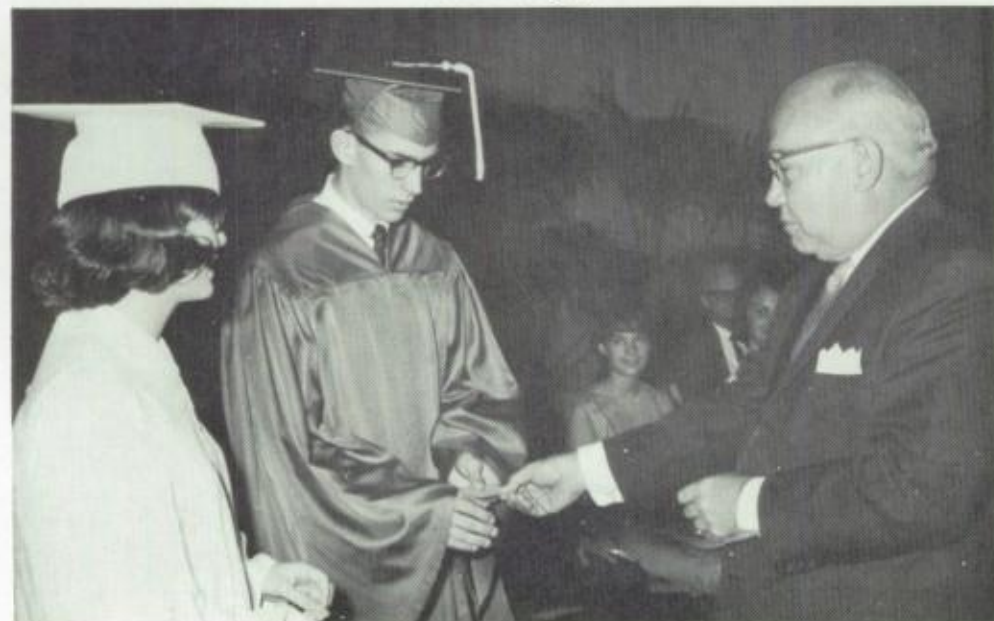

Darlene Jackson is given the N. A. A. C. P. Award for her outstanding qualities and persistent pursuance of her studies.

Mr. Hoffman presents J.B. with the Rensselaer Mathematics Award.

The Herrlinger Citizenship Award is awarded to Becky Avey and Tom Barga.

Randy Flory receives the M.A.S.T. Athletic Scholarship during Farewell Chapel from Mr. George Houck.

Senior

June 2

Dinner

1965

Dick Bradford proved to be a very capable Master of Ceremonies.

Mr. Prouty's faculty address to the Seniors was beautifully presented.

Larry Cassell gives the senior toast. Sorry to say, but his pointed witticisms concerning T.H.S. were all too true.

Merrikay Shope delivers a witty — and all too accurate — class history.

Gary Urick "squishes" across the speakers' platform in a fine imitation of Mr. Prouty.

John Giambri imitates Mr. Hoffman during the skit.

Barb Lusk presents Mr. Knuckles with a red rose as Gilda Potter reads the merits for which he received the dedication.

J. B. Hockert speaks to the audience and Class of 1965.

Carol Wright gives her Salutatory address at graduation exercises.

Hobart Welding Scholarships are presented to Steve Emmel, John Cress, and Ron Stewart. In the background not seen are Al May and Richard Kavalauskas.

Scholarships

Linda King receives a nursing scholarship.

The Scholarships given by the Class of 1964 are given to Linda Scholler and Randy Flory.

Mr. Farrell awards the Senior Boys' Club Scholarship to Pat Smith.

Merrickay Shope receives the Key Club Scholarship.

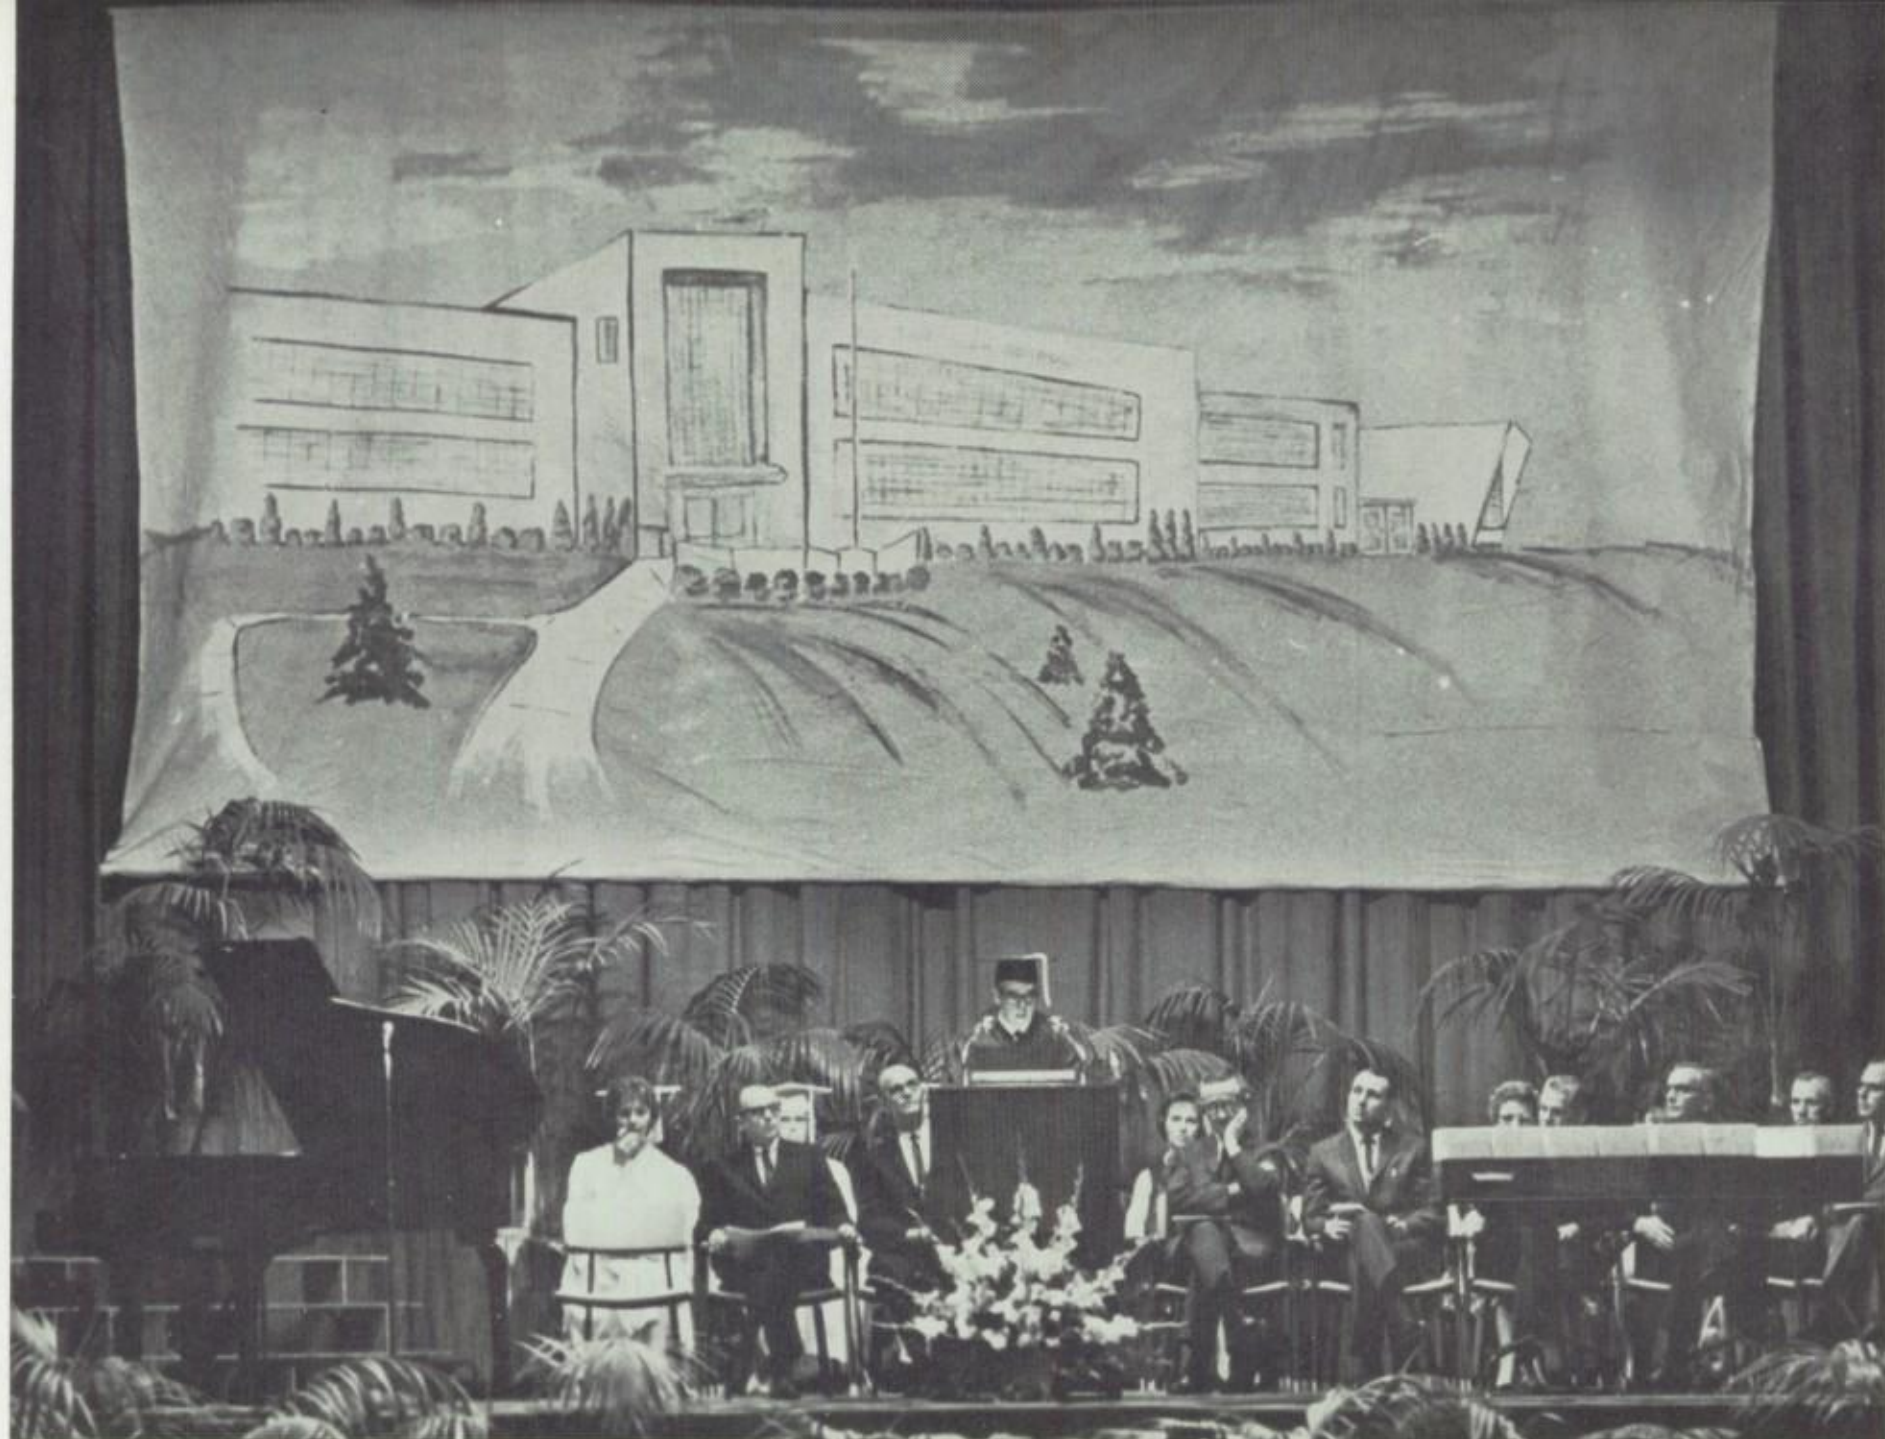

Anxiety, impatience, fear, joy, sadness, delight, incredability — all these emotions are captured here.

The Last Moments

The Senior Choir sings "No Man Is An Island" and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

'64 Football

The 1964 Troy Trojan's football season proved to be one of numerous disappointments. Great things were expected from the team, composed of many experienced and seasoned Seniors. There were also some outstanding Juniors who promised to be a great help in the duration of the season.

However, our Trojans seemed to always be lacking that most important "final punch" to their offensive drives and that all necessary "last effort" in their defensive stands.

Their spirit, however, was never extinguished. Always we could expect a valiant effort — the sign of a true sportsman — the mark of a true Trojan.

3 won, 7 lost . . .

Their efforts valiant . . .

Their spirit inextinguishable . . .

No matter if the competition is to be extremely rough, track events attract those who wish to test their skills and gain victory for their school. Whether the runner is taking part in relay, moving up and over the hurdles, or participating in the high jump, he will give his very best to obtain glory for his school.

This year, under Coach Smith, our track team took part in several meets and relays. T.H.S.'s team won two dual meets and lost two, came in 4th in the Mote Relays, 4th in the Troy Relays, 3rd in the M.V.L. Meet, and 13th in the District Meet.

JOY STEELE JONES

When modesty lifts its head true character is revealed. Such a term, however, is not used in its formal generic degree when it describes an individual who made it a symbol of life, thought and action. Such a person was Joy Steele Jones. She made it breathe and have a subtle allurement of being. In her it was a modesty of strength, not shy and cautious but unassuming and unpretentious. To understand this is to understand the depth of her true nature. Joy possessed an honesty of refinement in which one could reside in its shade rather than behold its shadow, experience the refreshment of a young mind rather than the precocity of a specially endowed youth. Her mannerism was one of sterling quality which reflected undertones of spiritual significance and was imbued in her speech and whatever she did, for her accomplishments were not things of which she boasted.

The brilliance of her mind was no efficacy of effort but a natural application of her potentialities. She was studious because her mind sought knowledge; she wanted to be informed and have an intelligent comprehension of the subject matter. Her interest was in things which produced meaning and purpose. Her mental perception sought to be satisfied. She had a mind of her own and expressed it with amazing revelation.

Joy's personality was of a charming wistfulness which won for her the affection of many of her classmates. But friendship for her was not a promiscuous giving of herself; it was a sincerity of response to qualities of definite worth which she perceived in others. Her popularity was due to her natural ability to be herself.

She displayed a truly remarkable and Christian characteristic in her ambition to be of help to others. Unmarked by pride she would choose to serve. She gave of her talents with earnestness in the Sunday school, youth choir and fellowship.

Joy was an inspiration of youthful exuberance which was tempered by an influence of simplicity and an affluence of Christian grace.

Senior Activities

1965 — CLASS HISTORY

BY MERRIKAY SHOPE

Well, here we are, gathered together socially for the last time at Senior Dinner. Soon we will all go our separate ways; many of us will probably never meet again. It seems like only yesterday when we came to this building for the first time, as little greenies; the largest freshman class to ever enter Troy High. If we think hard we can just barely remember those first few bustling days; the lectures and orientation periods, the endless cards to fill out, and the map they gave us which proved handy at times. Somehow we survived those crucial days and life began to settle down to a normal pace.

Scholastically speaking we had much to be proud of as we were one of the few freshman classes to win the honor roll plaque.

In those days we had long lunch schedules with Intramurals. Funny thing, the girls' hair never looked quite the same in the afternoon as it did in the morning. I don't imagine gym classes helped any either, especially those exciting days when the boys and girls classes combined to square dance.

Poor Mr. Hoffman put up with a lot from his first year algebra class. There was the time he left his door locked during lunch, but Larry Hathaway crawled through the window and let the rest of the class in. I don't think that class will ever forget the look on Mr. Hoffman's face as he unlocked the door and walked in to find the whole class waiting patiently in their seats.

We all remember Kent Taylor's recitation of "The Creation." I hear he still gives it very effectively. Many of us remember also the freshman A.P. English class production of "A Midsummer's Night Dream." We might not have been the greatest actors but I'm sure those that saw it did not soon forget it.

Of course some people felt they had to get in trouble early with the administration, like Ed Oxley, Tom Nofle, and Tim Netzley who got caught skipping our first Christmas chapel.

As freshmen we had the privilege of serving for the All-Club Formal. Some of those upper classmen were pretty demanding but we got our kicks back in the kitchen squishing the ice cream and cake down the garbage disposal.

Our class had not only the brains; we had spirit also. In fact, that's just about all our freshman basketball team had. They won one game and lost ten. We could be proud, though, of the fact that as freshmen we managed to win a couple of spirit contests at the pep meetings.

All too quickly our freshman year was over and suddenly we were sophomores. Remember the squirt guns and the mass cooperation in Latin II homework? I don't think we fooled Mrs. Helton much, though. Then there was English class and those awful autobiographies we had to write. It was also Mrs. Curry's first year to teach Academic English. Oh, the groans and complaints over her assignments that rang throughout the school. The A.P. class had the honor of meeting Mr. Prouty early. We were so afraid of him. We never knew whether we'd see him waltzing around the room or pounding on the desk. In fact, he's still just as unpredictable.

Our importance at the high school was growing and we had girls trying out for cheerleader. During those all important weeks many of our classmates could be seen limping and groaning from class to class. But all the work and pain was certainly worth it for three girls, Debbie Shuler, Bev Ross, and Judy Garwood, who emerged from the stiff competition as cheerleaders.

Athletically we were gaining skill as the reserve football team won 20 games in a row during our sophomore and junior years. Tom Barga had the honor of being on the varsity basketball squad. Fergus McDermott helped spark the golf team to the State meet and Randy Flory was setting records on the track team. As far as the reserve basketball team goes, things were picking up. They won 7 and lost 9. Of course, the girls were not to be outdone. The varsity volleyball team with Carol Wright was undefeated. Speaking of girls' athletics how many girls here can't remember the 660 yard run? It even hurts to think about it. In our sophomore year Block "T" was started. Many of us will not soon forget all the experiences we had cheering at the football and basketball games.

As sophomores we also had our first chance to elect class officers: Tom Barga was elected President; Gary Urick, Vice-President; Fergus McDermott, Secretary; and Gayle Sampson, Treasurer.

The high point for most of us in our sophomore year was biology, whether it was under Petay, Smith, or Brown. Remember the fish on top of Mr. Petay's P.A. speaker, that just about the whole school knew about except Mr. Petay? I don't know how he missed the smell. Then there were the boys who delighted in spearing fish or pitching pennies in the aquariums. Many of us will remember Mr. Petay for a long time for we were the last class to have him as a teacher.

Our junior year, busy and full of much excitement over our newfound upperclassman status, was marred by the tragic assassination of President Kennedy. Even though we had progressed in many ways, we had not outgrown our love for fads. Many shirts were ripped during the "fruit loop" craze, and Beatlemania led to long hair styles for the boys which I'm sure added some grays to the teacher's styles. Some boys were sent to the barber, but Mr. Welbaum thought Greg LaVelle's hair was long enough to warrant a trip to the girls' gym.

Remember when Randy Flory took the Civics Scholarship test as a junior and placed third without ever having taken Civics? How about the time the speech students terrorized the Otterbein campus with bean shooters? And then how could we forget the American Literature outlines? Again a great deal of cooperation paid off.

Our Junior year was a time for beginnings and endings. Mr. Bailey began a long line of successes as Dramatics Director with "The Mouse That Roared," and many of our classmates shared in its success. It was the ending of a long career as Music Director for Mr. West; and as Juniors we joined with the Seniors in the A Cappella Choir in bidding Mr. West a fond farewell. Mr. Dooley had a trying time of it that year. He accidentally walked into the girls' restroom instead of the Faculty Dining Room one day during lunch.

As juniors most of us got our kicks in chemistry class. The third period class made a bomb during the absence of Mr. Beisner under the supervision of a substitute teacher who thought they were doing an assigned experiment. Then there was the time Mr. Beisner created salt (plus the shaker) by combining Sodium and Chlorine. We'll remember for a long time the smell of sulfur, the girls' ruined hose, and the Bunsen burners.

Athletically, our Junior year was our first big year to shine. In his first year as coach, John Price led the team to a 6-3-1 record. It still remains a question whether the increased female attendance at our games was due to our winning team or our handsome coach. That was the year Randy Johnston got a pumpkin in the ear in the locker room, and the year one of the Block "T" buses broke down on the way to Fairmont. Remember the Key Club bonfire when some of the boys stole an outhouse from a farmer for the top of the bonfire? The basketball team was unable to catch the M.V.L., but did make a fine showing. The tennis team with the "Toms" — Nofle and Wehrley leading the doubles — captured the M.V.L. Three of our classmates, Fergus McDermott, Chuck Littleton, and Tom Sunderman, helped push the golf team to a second in the State. The girls' teams all had successful seasons under the leadership of such outstanding athletes as Carol Wright, Lynda Randall, Susie Johnston, Rita Blackmore, Martha Rasor, Darlene Ward, and Karen Rasor.

Winter quickly passed by and suddenly it was spring and time to elect our Senior class officers. They were Tom Barga, President; Pat Smith, Vice-President, Mike Rudy, Secretary; and Becky Avey, Treasurer. Spring also meant time for the Junior-Senior Prom. Ours was the first Prom held in the gym. All the hard work paid off as the "Southern Plantation" Theme was effectively carried out with trees, chandeliers, and a beautiful pillored veranda which housed the Karl Taylor band. John Miller and Jeff Macy got soaking wet putting up the center of attraction, a beautiful fountain which worked perfectly until about a half hour before the Prom started. How could we forget the parachutes which were supposed to represent clouds! Too bad some of them turned out to be orange, but then we couldn't have everything. As it was Mr. Kazmaier nearly had a heart attack worrying about how much money we were spending. At any rate, all who were there know the Prom was a success, and most of that success we owed to Mr. Kazmaier and Barb Weikert, who organized the decorations.

The end of the year drew around and it was time for us to attend our first Senior Chapel. The Chapel was beautiful and sad but most of us could think of only next year when we would be Seniors. The Carson and Vesper Trophies, which are given to the most outstanding Junior girl and boy, were given to Megan Williams and Tom Barga. Senior Chapel was indeed a fitting ending for an eventful Junior year, but few of us realized how soon our own Senior Chapel would roll around.

The big day finally came — our first day as Seniors: finally we could sit on the Senior Bench. We had grown up in many ways, but were still susceptible to fads; the skateboards hit our class as hard as the others. Long hair was still here, although the teachers seemed to ignore it as much as possible.

We had a busy autumn with the Sesquicentennial celebration climaxed by the big parade around town in our old clothes. By the time for the Homecoming game we were in the full swing of things. We elected Martha Rasor Queen, and her court consisted of Becky Avey, Ada Hanna, Judy Rapp, Megan Williams, and Patty Herrick. Winning the game raised our spirits even higher. In fact, even though, record-wise the season was a bit of a disappointment, that disappointment is over-shadowed by the good times we had. Take for instance the Sidney game when it rained and snowed so hard the Block "T" was forced to seek refuge in the buses. The cheerleaders stuck it out though and most of them got colds for their troubles. While we're on the subject of football we owe recognition to the dedication of the marching band for their two hours practice each morning during the summer and every night after school. Also in the fall, forty juniors and seniors went down to W.L.W.D.'s Teen Scene and came back with a set of Great Books for the library.

Our senior year was a big year for the Dramatics Department under the direction of J. Morris Bailey. Don Nelson's exceptional role in the "Man Who Came To Dinner" led the play to a hilarious success. The department then followed with a drama, "The Crucible," which was so successful that portions of it appeared on television. The superb cast was led by Dick Bradford, Lynda Randall, Megan Williams, Lynda Myers, and Tom Nofle. The high point in the dramatic season was "The Sound of Music," a combination of the efforts of the dramatics and music departments, which played to three full-house crowds. Everything went pretty smoothly except for occasional problems with the nun's pitch until the last night when it was discovered there was no furniture; Sellman's had come and taken it back. Oh, the panic behind stage that night! But with phone calls and a hurried trip to Covington, the furniture arrived on time. The cast of "The Sound of Music" included Dorothy Weaver, Rick McClure, Don Nelson, Ranelle Boller, Rita Blackmore, and Becky Yount. As spring rolled around, it was time for the Senior Class play, "The Solid Gold Cadillac." For her role as Mrs. Parrtridge, Nancy Winninger received the Troy High School Best Actress Award, and Lloyd Rhoades, as Mr. McKeever, gave a very memorable performance of "Spartacus to the Gladiators."

Fall passed into winter; Becky Yount captured the Junior Miss title and it was already time for our last basketball season. Remember the Sidney game when Tom Barga hit two foul shots with three seconds to play and won the game? And the free-for-all at Piqua with all the water on the floor? Our team didn't always win but they always tried and the games were exciting.

Soon it was spring and the pace was rapidly picking up. The bomb scare on April Fools' Day livened things up temporarily. Unfortunately, we didn't get to go home, but had to stand outside in the cold while the police checked the building. The chicken dinner, organized by Mike Rudy and his co-chairmen Jeff Buchik, Sue Snyder, Dorothy Weaver, Chuck Littleton, John Greer, and Lynda Randall, was a smashing success, we earned $1,000 for next year's class. It went very smoothly except for some carry-out orders that never quite got delivered. Six of our seniors, Rob Cary, Chuck Littleton, Lynda Randall, Tom Sunderman, Alan Good, and John Black, along with Mrs. Burk, went on a J.C.O.W.A. Study Tour to New York and Washington where a computer analyzed Mrs. Burk as having "a domineering attitude that is driving others away." Spring sports were again a success. The golf and tennis teams won the M.V.L., and the baseball team had a winning season. Gilda Potter's work picked up as the annual deadlines drew near. Student Government Day elections were exciting as the SHADES Party under the leadership of Gary Urick, and the BONANZA Party under the leadership of Mike Rudy, locked horns and sunglasses. Tom Barga as mayor led the BONANZA Party to a 10 to 7 victory over the SHADES at the polls, but the campaigns were spirited and both parties were effectively organized. Two weeks ago we attended our last Prom at Troy High School. It was a happy evening in an Oriental atmosphere, which showed a great of work by the Junior class.

Our years at Troy High were climaxed by Senior Chapel, our last day at school. We won't forget marching down the aisle for the last time, and then saying good-by to our teachers as we left the school.

Yes, our teachers, how we will remember them, especially that day they were all so nice to us. Of course, strictly by coincidence it was the day the evaluators were here. So many of the teachers have traits that will live in our memory: Mr. Vesper's "straight-forward" physics tests; Mr. Conard's "if you don't remember anything this year, remember this;" Mrs. Burk's hot-shot finger; Mr. Oliver's unique method of curbing chewing gum; Mr. Hoffman's "squeeze-me;" Mr. Prouty's ties and squeaky shoes; Mrs. Curry's tests; and Mr. Smith's "particular individual." Mr. Dooley did it again. Remember when the fly flew in his mouth during choir? And remember the time during the concert when Mr. Slonaker's baton sailed out of his hand and into the midst of the band, scaring Karen Rasor to death? While we're remembering our teachers, I think it only proper that we thank them for all they've taught us, and along with the teachers I think we should thank Mr. Cliff, whose notes have proved an invaluable aid in our study of literature.

Oh yes, we have so many memories, but soon that is all they will be . . . memories. We've passed through four busy years of high school within these walls; it hardly seems possible that they are all over. But Friday night, as the last strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" die away, and we are handed our diplomas, we will realize that high school — like all things — must end, and we must now go on to new things and new experiences.

Farewell, Troy High School

We, the TROJAN Staff, have endeavored to record the many memories of the 1964-65 school year as accurately as possible. Many events were impossible to preserve. Each picture, though, is intended to suggest some incident — trivial or monumental — and to call to mind events you enjoyed or had a part in. At some distant time, each of us will remember with pleasure that wonderful year as Seniors at Troy High School.

Each Senior now goes his way. We will part; perhaps never to converse with one another again. Thus, when you suddenly yearn for the carefree moments of that exciting last year, let the 1965 TROJAN be the supplement to your memory to relive those pleasant, precious times.
